EVERY DAY COUNTS - ACTIVE PARTICIPATION EVERY CLASS

STUDENTS

At the 2014 Annual Speech Night recently the 2015 School Captains and Vice Captains were announced. We congratulate the following students:

School Captain and President of the Student Council: Georgia Toohey
School Captain and Vice President of the Student Council: Daniel Favier
Vice Captain and Secretary of the Student Council: Eloise Mashford
Vice Captain and Treasurer of the Student Council: James Hunt

Whilst I know that these four students will have the support of their peers who elected them, the other eight (8) nominees also deserve special recognition. All twelve candidates gave thoughtful and thought-provoking speeches and would have been excellent representatives. Special mention to Liana Haak, Natalie Krivan, Chloe Sims, Charles Payne, Max Johnston, Jack Houn, Jarrod Cupitt and Thomas Vukelic who offered their candidacy.

For the first time we also announced the Junior Secondary School Captains at Speech Night. There were many nominees excellent and we congratulate the 2015 Captains, Lincoln Rabbit and Sarah Tarlinton as well as Vice Captains, Lize Potgieter, Lachlan Hurt, Amy-Louise Kempson and Piper Whelan. With the many junior secondary happenings through the rest of this term, this group of leaders will start their leadership roles shortly. Again the other candidates are to be congratulated on offering themselves for positions of leadership: Meghann Plant, Heath Kinsella, Naomi Noll and Beth Wright.

Congratulations to Year 11 student, Daniel Lawson who was rewarded with a place in January’s National Youth Science Forum in Canberra. Daniel completed interviews and was selected to attend the 10-day camp which will expose him to the various science fields and careers within the industry. We look forward to hearing from you early 2015, Daniel.

Kingaroy High’s Instrumental Music program has continued its excellent year of achievements with a gold medal performance in last week’s Musifest in Brisbane. The Wind Ensemble, despite a delayed start beyond their control, managed to perform strongly and was rewarded accordingly. Thank you to Mrs Iszlaub, for her work with this group, as well as to Mr Phillips and parent, Mrs Chimes for their supervision.

Well done to the twenty-five Year 8 and 9 students who offered their time to officiate at the primary school sports last Friday. Umpiring or refereeing at a variety of sports from tennis to tee-ball to volleyball and newcombe these students happily blew their whistles and directed play at various venues in order to help the day progress. Thank you students for your volunteering.

STAFF

Next week we welcome Mrs Melissa Kempson’s return from leave while the following week will see Mrs Helen Noble return. I am sure that they will have enjoyed the extended break and will hit the ground running to see out the remainder of Term 4. By the same token we wish Mrs Marny Rivers all the best for her leave which starts after this week, and also extend our best wishes to Mrs Robyn Burton and Mr Jeff Hicks on their well-earned break from Week 6 onwards.

CURRICULUM

Thank you to those parents who attended Parent-Teacher Interviews last Monday afternoon. This block of interviews provides an excellent opportunity to see where students are situated with regard to their pathways in 2015. It can’t be reiterated strongly enough how important it is for students to be continuing to improve and work on their organisation, study habits, communication and all skills that could contribute to yielding improved skills and results. It is crucial that students don’t think that they will “make the changes next year”. Change needs to start immediately, and can make a difference.

SPORTS NIGHT

On Wednesday night the Kingaroy High community celebrated the sporting excellence of a large number of students being recognised for their commitment, dedication and resulting excellent performances throughout the year in Queensland School Sport affiliated sports. Congratulations is extended to all award recipients, especially to the Bass Blue Sportsperson of the Year finalists, Leah Davis, Lane Ferling, Laura Gray, Jack Houn, Hayley Hunter, Marney Hunt and Ashley Kempson. In particular we acknowledge Simon Fairbairn who was announced as the overall winner.

We also thank our special guest, Mr Matthew Favier, who is currently the Director at the Australian Institute of Sport. As a high performing athlete who grew up in rural Queensland, won a scholarship to the AIS and has worked in Australia as well as the UK in various sports management roles he provided many interesting ideas. Mr Favier gave some insightful looks into international and national sport, particularly as an athlete, coach and administrator. Referring to involvement in sport as being “an apprenticeship for life” Mr Favier noted the key attributes of resilience and accountability. He left his audience with some Things to Think About:-

- pursue ambitions with passion and commitment
- take responsibility
- try your best and never give up
- seek out people who will encourage you
- it’s okay to be brilliant – don’t be afraid to shine (but don’t brag)
- be respectful of others – no one likes people who treat others poorly
- coach or teach – it’s your opportunity to give back
- enjoy your journey – there’s loads to look forward to.

These are excellent words of wisdom which apply in all walks of life.

Lloyd Fairbairn, Deputy Principal HR & Student Timetabling

FROM THE ASSISTANTS TO THE PRINCIPAL

As the weather warms up and we get closer to the holidays it would be easy to relax rules for the end of the year. This, however, would not see a smooth finish to the school year for students, staff or parents.

Banned items:
Mobile phones and similar electronic devices should be left at home. If they are brought to school they are to be left at Student Services before school and collected at the end of the day. Students found with these banned items will have them confiscated by staff and then asked to collect them from Student Services at the end of the day. Only parents will be able to collect these items if students are found with them for a second or future time. Chewing gum is also a banned item. Ensure your child does not bring gum to school.

Attendance and results:
There is a direct link between student attendance and results at school. To ensure your child achieves the best results that they can it is important that they attend school each and every school day. Final year results do make a difference. Improvements can be made. No student wants their good result to drop because they are winding down at the end of the year. Obviously there are times when this is not possible due to illness, for example. In these situations please make sure an explanation is given to the school as soon as possible to ensure your student authorised attendance records are accurate.

Please work with us to provide your son/daughter with a smooth and successful finish to the year.

Eddie Groom and Pauline Peters, ATTP (Acting)

IMMUNISATION CATH-UP CLINIC

If your child missed any of the doses they can attend the catch-up clinic on the 6th November, 3 pm at the Kingaroy Town Hall.
YEAR 8 INTO YEAR 9 2015 – ELECTIVE SUBJECT SELECTIONS

Students will bring home a subject selection form this week. Students will have the opportunity to give their preferences to study electives for next year – one in Semester 1 and one in Semester 2. Studying electives enables students to rule out subjects or confirm possible selections for senior study in the future.

Students are to complete the form and bring it with them when they have their interview with Mrs Ferling. This interview is just with the students and is more to ensure the form is fully completed and to note if they have any particular interests, career aspirations at this stage. The interviews will be held Monday 3 November and Tuesday 4 November. Students will have to nominate 7 preferences in total with the most wanted listed as number 1. While we will endeavour to allocate students to their number 1 and 2 preferences this may not always occur, hence the need for 7 preferences.

Please note that students who intend to study Japanese in year 11 and 12 must study Japanese for 2 semesters in year 9 and 2 semesters in year 10 thus limiting the total number of electives to be experienced in year 9 &10. If this is your chosen course of study, please place Japanese as your number 1 preference.

YEAR 9 INTO YEAR 10 – ELECTIVE SUBJECT UPDATE

In the coming weeks students will be advised of the electives they will be studying next year. This has been a difficult task in ensuring students are able to study their preferences. Please be patient as we continue to attend to the timetabling and resourcing of these subjects. If changes are able to be made, students will be advised of this process in due course.

LAST CHANCE FOR NOOROOK!

How do you preserve the best memories from high school for the rest of your life? By ordering your very own copy of the school magazine, Noorook! Media Committee members Danielle Janz and Cas Lewandowski (pictured) are working hard to bring you all the highlights of 2014, and can’t wait to see as many students as possible delving into the vibrant pages of this publication. To give students a final chance to secure their copies, we have extended the due date for orders to next Friday (07/11). Make sure you bring your order form and payment to Mrs Freeman at the payment window as soon as possible. Extra order forms can be collected from Mr Stevens’ pigeon hole in L Block staffroom. Please note: there will be little chance of buying a copy of Noorook if your order is not received before this revised deadline, so make sure you don’t miss out!

YEAR 9 NEWS

Year 9s are keeping busy with assignments, study for exams and many co-curricular and extra-curricular activities still available. It was great to see so many Year 9s either receiving awards or being involved in Choir and Band on Speech Night. Students still need to be putting time and effort into their study to make sure they finish the year as strongly as they began.

Vivo rewards are still being given by teachers across subjects, so make sure you keep checking accounts, and what’s available in the Vivo shop. Through mentoring I’ve enjoyed helping Year 8s show leadership.

Jenna Christensen: My public speaking has improved this year, and I’ve been able to meet a lot of the Year 8s.

Bryaden Canniford: I’ve enjoyed being active with the school in the Senior Committees.

Riley Slattery: (Cultural Committee) I’ve enjoyed helping organise trips.

Dayna Pukallus: (Welfare Committee) I’ve enjoyed having more responsibility, and seeing some of the Senior roles in Year 12.

Briarna Reynolds: (Media Committee) We got to help plant trees, and get people involved, as well as to get people’s opinions about things like the amount of shade available.

Well done to our Junior leaders for a solid year of work, and best wishes for your transition to the Senior school.

YEAR 10 NEWS

The Year 10s have made a flying start to the shortest term of year. The cohort will finish this 8 week term on Friday 28th November. Up until then classes will still complete a large amount of work and assessment. In all this term is “jam packed” and each and every student should be at school every day. Each lesson is so important and any lessons missed must be caught up by seeing the subject teacher. Once again, thank you to all parents who continue to dress their child in the appropriate school uniform. Remember full school uniform is required on Tuesday so if your child doesn’t have this, please make arrangements to do so.

Thank-you to those parents who have already had, or have made, appointments for the SET Plan interview. Your co-operation is greatly appreciated. Don’t forget a SET Plan interview must take place before your child can be enrolled in year 11 next year. All interviews should take place by the 5th of November.

As you know the Year 10 Transition Night is scheduled for Monday 8th December. The night serves as a celebration for students’ achievements to complete 10 years of schooling. To attend the night students must have an attendance percentage of 93%. Exceptions to this can be granted but only at the discretion of the Principal and Year Level Co-ordinators. Your child received a letter last week outlining the night and their current attendance percentage.

Congratulations must go to Ryley Allery, Jordon Woods, Keisuke Uchimura, Toyya Power, Dylan Nichol, Grant Murray, Kaitlyn Missen, Andes Ma, Libby Jenkins, Elyssa Hayward, Connor Early, Tayla Curley and Allexandra Almond who have shown tremendous commitment and self-discipline by attending school every day last term.

For anyone interested RSL QLD is offering students the chance to partake in study grants of $2500 and $5000. Recipients have the opportunity to also apply for a reduction in fees to Bond University. This reduction can be used at the completion of high school. See www.RSLyouth.com.au for more information.

Year 10 Coordinators

Congratulations to all the nominees and the Committee Chairs that were chosen. The final leadership positions that have been decided are those of the four lots of House Captains. These were announced at Sports Night on Wednesday night. Well done to the 2015 elected leaders, Lavarrack - Chlo Sims and Christopher Hutton, Bradfield - Marey Hurt and Thomas Vukelic, Youngman - Rhiannon Hermann and Jack Hourn, Palmer - Alex Evans and Ashley Kempson.

Matt Langford, YEAR 11 COORDINATOR

CREATIVE WRITING EXCELLENCE PROGRAM

For the past few years, the University of the Sunshine Coast has facilitated a creative writing course for secondary schools in the Wide Bay and Sunshine Coast region. For the third year, the University invited Kingaroy State High School to be involved and 13 of our Year 11 students participated in this year’s course. The program is fully funded by the University and our students used their time on Wednesday afternoons in Term 3 to be involved. It is hoped that through this additional commitment to their studies of English, the students will improve their results in the imaginative writing section of the Senior English course.

Dr Maria Arena from the University presented the course where students investigate the short story genre. Each of the students composed a short story which has been bound into an anthology and presented to them. Copies of the 2014 anthology will reside in the library. A book prize was awarded to Sarah Kaing as the student who wrote the best story, with Natalie Krivan and Tommy Vukelic recognised as second and third place winners respectively.

The program will resume in Term 3 in 2015, with our current Year 10s eligible to participate in the course.

Paul Hutton, HOD ENGLISH/LOTE

KSHS AG PROGRAM

This is a time of year, when, like it or not, the school community has one thing on its mind – the end. We see it as a testament to the Ag program, then, when students continue to flock to the farm during lunch so they can tend to the animals and the vegetable garden. Students are still making the rounds selling vegetables from the plot; they continue to yard the cattle and weigh them every week; they reliably ensure the poultry is fed and watered and the eggs collected.

It was a thrill to see the enthusiasm of our Year 8 and 9 students on our last excursion for the year to the Wide Bay Interschool Hoop and Hook competition in Maleny. Our team consisted of Coster Jeffries, Blake Rea, Adam Klein, Jaydon Brown, Teagan Wyles, Khandy Trindall, and Lydia Ford, and were led by two senior students, Casey Sadler and Jesse Watson. The students worked hard, competed well and enjoyed success with our steers winning ribbons in the Heavyweight Class and Grand Champion Carcass.

Most important was the opportunity for our students to be exposed to the multitude of career options available to them. Students heard from Janet Hull describing her role at Biosecurity Queensland. Ian McConnell who is the National Project Coordinator for Sustainable Beef at the World Wildlife Fund (WWF) gave an inspiring address about his position working for WWF. He implored our students to rise to the challenge of addressing what is building to be one of the globe’s most pressing crises – a global food shortage. Peter Scott from Rural Training Queensland shared his life story, which included an emphasis on adapting to economic demands using education. Rural Training Queensland provides numerous pathways into careers related to agriculture. Some of our students quickly caught him during the time we were there to chat with him about their career options.

It has been a good year and we are making the most of this term, celebrating our successes, planning improvements to those areas in which we are weak, and always looking toward new beginnings.

Wouldn’t you rather stroll down a vegetable row and not a shopping isle to get FRESH produce?

Wouldn’t you rather pick corn, carrots, beans, or silver beet from a well-tended garden than a grocery bin?

Drop in to the KSHS Ag garden between 2:45pm and 3:30pm on any school day to purchase your fresh, student-grown vegetables.

Don’t just mean reading stories, but road signs and newspapers, bills and catalogues, application forms and magazines – text, pictures, symbols, faces, gestures – the list is huge. In the weekend paper Angela Mollard wrote a very witty account about being trapped in a bookstore. She observed that, “We may be changing what we read and how we read, but the book is the denim jacket of culture – timeless, relaxed, comfortable in any context. It’s adapted brilliantly to electronic devices, serialisation, fan fiction and social media…”

My time away in Term 3 brought the power of words and experiences into sharp focus, both while I was travelling Scotland and England and then when I got home. Luckily, you don’t have to travel abroad to experience these thrills of recognition. Australian writers have brought the outback and the coast, Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne alive – James Moloney is an expert in evoking place. In “Bridge to Wiseman’s Cove” you can smell the salt water and feel the sand in your feet. Magazines capture the excitement of Phillip Island racing or fishing at Fraser Island. Regardless of the medium, get into reading now! “The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more you learn, the more places you’ll go.” Dr Seuss.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH

Congratulations to the Awardees recognised on Speech Night – Well done Matthew Champney, Christopher Hutton, Jenna Irwin and Carley Lakin on achieving your Bronze Awards.

I know many more students are close to finishing their Bronze, Silver and Gold Awards, but just need to log all their activity on the ORB. I would encourage all Year 12 students to get their Awards completed as soon as possible, so there is a chance of having this recognised on their QCE.

Once participants actually get online, the whole process is quite painless; it just requires perseverance and time to record everything. Also, there is a template that makes reporting Adventurous Journeys easy.

For the Bridge participants, I have submitted their documentation for the Area Award Committee to process certificates and hopefully these will be ready for presentation before the end of the year.

If you have not submitted your Bridge 1 or Bridge 2 books, it’s not too late. Get them to Mrs Conomos as soon as possible.

Thanks for your cooperation in this matter and don’t hesitate to contact me on jmcono1@eq.edu.au if you have any concerns.

HINTS & TIPS FOR USING SOCIAL MEDIA

- Taking a few moments to think about the content you are about to post could save upset, embarrassment, and possible legal action.
- As a parent you have a role in supervising and regulating your child’s online activities at home and its impact on the reputation and privacy of others. Parents are their child’s first teachers – so they will learn online behaviours from you.

SEVEN STRATEGIES TO OPTIMISE OPTIMISM IN TEENS

1. Empathise: Often our teens just need someone to be there and understand. Letting them know you can see they feel hopeless and they wonder why they should bother can be powerful for them. It validates their experience.

2. Emphasise “yet”: When a teen says, “I can’t”, smile and gently add “yet” to the end of their sentence. Those three little letters imply both an expectation that it will be done, and a belief that it can be done.

3. Steer their focus to what they can control: Teens often worry about things that they have no control over. Ask them, “What can you do right now about this?” “What options do you have?” “You’re struggling with the assignment. Where is the best place you can think of to start.”

4. Focus on the end: There is life after high school – and it’s GREAT!

5. Emphasise strengths: Tell them what you see in them. “You have some remarkable strengths that you don’t get to use enough at school...” and be specific about what they are!

6. Understand mindsets: Become acquainted with research around the way our brains change. There are popular books such as Carol Dweck’s Mindset and Norman Doidge’s The Brain the Changes Itself.

7. Avoid the superficial: If a teen feels lousy, being told to “cheer up, it will get better” is unlikely to help. No one believes you when they don’t feel you understand. It feels dismissive and patronising.

Written by Dr Justin Coulson, a positive psychologist and parenting educator.

FROM THE CHAPLAIN

RE for Term 4: This Tuesday Elyssa Hayward (a Year 10 student) did an RE session with our Year 8 girls using some tricks with her horse as part of the presentation. The boys went with the male Year 8 teachers and had some activities organised by Mr Peter Collins.

On Friday 7th November Year 9, 10 and 11 boys will have motivational presentations. The teachers went with the male Year 8 teachers and had some activities organised by Mr Peter Collins.

Children are wonderful at being able to learn about life and the world in their own way. I’m sure if they were given the right information and guidance they could learn a lot more.

Christmas Raffle: Mr Don Alback has kindly donated a beautiful wooden truck to the Chaplaincy Committee, which would make a great Christmas present. This toy is being raffled for a dollar a ticket. If you would like to win, tickets will be sold from the Chaplain’s Office in the Community Building. Money will go to the Chaplaincy Committee.
